

What does CTODP mean to our families?

I feel my daughter is able to get a better education because of your program. It is her second year receiving this help and her school grades have gone up. I see so many changes in her and I know it's from the attention she receives. I thank you for making this possible for both me and my daughter.

Veronica Guzman

Without CTODP it would not be possible to send my son to Catholic school. I value a Catholic education for my son. Attending Catholic school will directly have an effect on what kind of person he will become. For that I will always be grateful for CTODP.

Due to the economy, mounting medical bills and rising living expenses, the award will assist in allowing out children to receive an education in a Catholic environment.

My children are so excited that they received this award. They can continue to attend St. Louis the King and continue learning.

This award allows me to send my child to a school that is allowed to worship God. My child is not only receiving a high quality education, but she is also getting educated with the Word of God and that means the world to me. Thank you CTODP! May God bless your organizations.

Without this award our family could not financially afford a Catholic religious education, especially in today's economic climate. We live paycheck to paycheck right now. CTODP provides our children, as well as children everywhere of low income status, the opportunity of a foundation that will last a lifetime. Catholic education is an extension of our family life and this award is an example of how our Lord continues to provide for our family...All the glory goes to God!
